Afternoon Tea ~ A brief history

Nobody knows the exact origins of the afternoon tea but one lady features in all theories, Anna, Seventh Duchess of Bedford (1783–1857), Lady-in-waiting to Her Majesty, Queen Victoria.

Traditionally, dinner was not served until 8.30 or 9.00 in the evening and the Duchess often became hungry, especially in the summer when dinner was served even later.

Every afternoon, she experienced a “sinking feeling” and requested sandwiches & cakes between 3pm & 4pm in the afternoon. Soon others followed the Duchess’ lead. In 1842, a well known actress named Fanny Kemble heard of afternoon tea, and began to invite some guests to join her.

Soon all of fashionable London was sipping tea with a variety of sandwiches on the side. The custom of “taking tea” in the afternoon had become well established, along with a complex set of rules and etiquette.

Black Tea

Irish Breakfast – India

A strong full bodied tea with good flavour, this second flush golden-tipped black tea is from tea gardens in Aasam.

Earl Grey – India / Sri Lanka

A flavoursome blend of rich Assam and Ceylon black teas flavoured with citrusy bergamot.

English Breakfast – India / Sri Lanka / Tanzania

Invigorate your day with this robust and flavoursome tea. A traditional blend of Assam, Ceylon and Tanzanian teas.

Lapsang Souchong – China

There is nothing subtle about this robust black tea with a smoky flavour similar to a Islay malt whisky. There seem to be plenty of stories how this unique tea flavour came to be. Our favourite is that the culprit was trying to dry their tea fast over an open fire and accidental smoking occurred. A nice mistake.

Masala Chai – India

Based on a full-bodied Assam tea with a balanced blend of spices gives a lovely warming drink for those quiet moments.

Should you wish for any assistance when selecting your tea, please feel free to ask our Tea Sommelier for recommendations.

---

Vanilla Black Tea – China

A bold mixture of black tea leaves and vanilla pieces.
Great with desserts or a treat on its own.

Wild Cherry – China

Beautifully decorated with dark red chunks of cherry, this Chinese-Ceylon black tea blend gives a robust fruity cherry drink.

Yunnan – China

A speciality from the highland region of Yunnan. Large, golden-brown leaf and golden tips yield a copper-brown infusion with a well-balanced taste. Slightly sweet, spicy notes and a soft, delicate smoky finish.

Darjeeling – India

An aromatic blend of first and second flush leaf tea. Blended on site in the Happy Valley Estate located close to the city of Darjeeling, India.

English Breakfast Decaf – Sri Lanka

A flavoursome and light decaffeinated Ceylon Breakfast tea.

Green Tea

Genmaicha – Japan

A bancha green tea platform mixed with whole roasted and popped grains of rice which gives it a roasted flavour. The Japanese bancha is naturally low in caffeine.

Jasmine Pearls – China

Delicate leaves are deeply infused with fresh jasmine flowers and then hand rolled into tight pearls. When steeping see the aromatic full leaf pearls unfurl in front of your eyes. This fine green tea with sweet aromatic jasmine blossoms give an exquisite champagne coloured cup.

Gunpowder – China

A very popular tea in China called Zhucha – meaning pearl tea. Green tea leaves are rolled into small pearls which keeps the leaves fresher for longer. A wonderfully smooth green tea with a hint of smokiness.

Moroccan Mint – China

Chinese gunpowder green tea blended with a melange of mints gives a lively all-day infusion. Add sugar for an authentic Moroccan experience.

Sencha Rose – China

A Chinese Sencha forms the base for this cherry flavoured and rose scented classic.

White Tea

Silver Needle – China

Young tender buds are picked just before opening in a meticulous harvesting process lasting only a couple of days each spring. This white tea gives a delightfully smooth nectar like cup and is a very popular white tea.

White Peony – China

The Chinese name is Pai Mu Tan and a light, refreshing and slightly sweet tea is produced from the hand picked bud and first two leaves of the tea plant.

Oolongs

Milky Oolong – China

This fine Oolong from the Chinese Fujian Province is produced in a complex process. While the leaves wither they are exposed to steam from milk, which infuses the leaf giving an incredible soft and mellow note to the tea. A rare luxury.

Ti Kuan Yin – China

A classic Chinese Oolong tea with floral notes. In flavour lying somewhere between a green and a black tea. A meditative cup. Also known as Iron Goddess Oolong.

Herbal Tea

Aloe Verbena – Germany

Aloe vera and smooth verbena form a soothing and calming tisane.

Lemongrass & Ginger – Thailand

The citrus flavours of the lemongrass together with the orange peel blend perfectly with the spicy ginger. A refreshing and soothing cup.

Rooibos – South Africa

South African redbush is an organic rooibos with no added flavourings. Can be enjoyed with or without milk.

Peppermint – USA

A simple refreshing and soothing infusion of chopped peppermint leaves.

Orange Ginger Organic – Germany

Organic ginger and orange pieces combine to form this delicious spicy and fruity gem.

Chamomile – Croatia

A relaxing and soothing herbal infusion of whole chamomile flowers. Perfect just before bedtime.
